

Bridget Coyne
Co-Founder and Director

I have over 15 years of experience working within a leading Education Authority in East London. Having worked with Mr. Roger Freestone over a number of years, we decided in 2001 to set up Equivalency Testing to provide subject support advice and examinations for students who wish to pursue a career in Teaching.

We both agreed there was a need to provide a service for prospective students who wished to gain a qualification in Maths, English and Science that would allow them to continue on their chosen career path.

I am Equivalency Testing's first point of contact. My knowledge and experience of the education sector, in particular of all the Teacher Training courses available, means I be able to answer and help with all enquiries.

Aspects of my role include, administrating exams on our premises and externally, monitoring of tutor performance, office management, accounts and recruitment.

I pride myself on my dedication to providing a totally committed service to our students their Universities and Employers.
